

Let Better Comfort Fit In

With The High Performance Mini-duct Heating And Cooling System

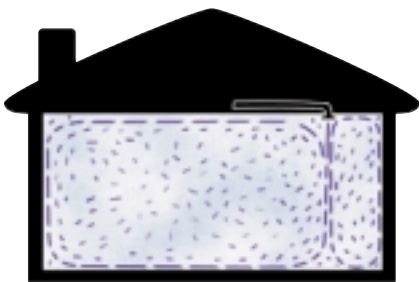

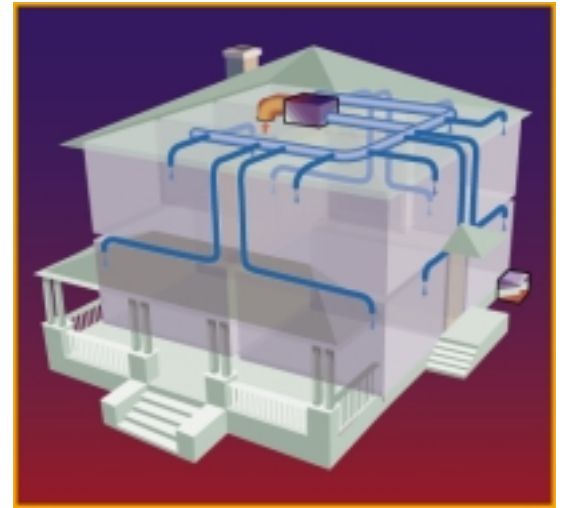

Perfect For Custom Home Applications Enjoy The Freedom Of Design And Superior Comfort!

If you can design it, the Unico System can heat and cool it! The Unico System, with its flexible mini-ducts crafted to weave around and through construction, fits in anywhere. In fact, the Unico System offers homeowners many advantages over conventional systems:

Greater Installation Convenience

There's no need to design or build around cumbersome metal ductwork, and no need for soffits or firdowns! This means more of the interior space can be utilized and enjoyed by the homeowner. It's also a much easier and less cumbersome system to install.

The Unico System gently circulates air throughout each room.

Conventional systems dump air which causes drafts and uneven temperatures.

Even Temperatures Without Drafts and Noise

The Unico System works on the principle of aspiration. Streams of air gently mix with existing air currents and provide even temperatures from floor to ceiling. Sound dampening supply tubes deliver draft-free comfort to every room without the pop and bang of metal ducts.

◀ Less Humidity For More Comfort

In the cooling mode, the Unico System provides an excellent degree of comfort without humidity by removing 30% more moisture from the air.

Flexible Options for Heating and Cooling

From brownstones to Victorian to ranch, the Unico System fits where conventional systems won't. Five applications are offered:

- Heat Pump
- Standard Cooling
- Chilled Water Cooling
- Hot Water Heating
- Electric Add-on Heat

Matches Any Décor

Unlike conventional systems, walls are not marred by metal registers that streak or stain. Instead, outlets are small and subtle and can be painted or stained to blend into any room.
